

Giving Himself Away
John Wesley

What legacy will you leave behind?

Setting a finish line for your wealth

How much is enough?

At some point, we need to ask the question, “How much is enough?” Do you have a finish line?

DOLLARS AND SENSE

INHERITANCE PLAN FOR YOUR CHILDREN

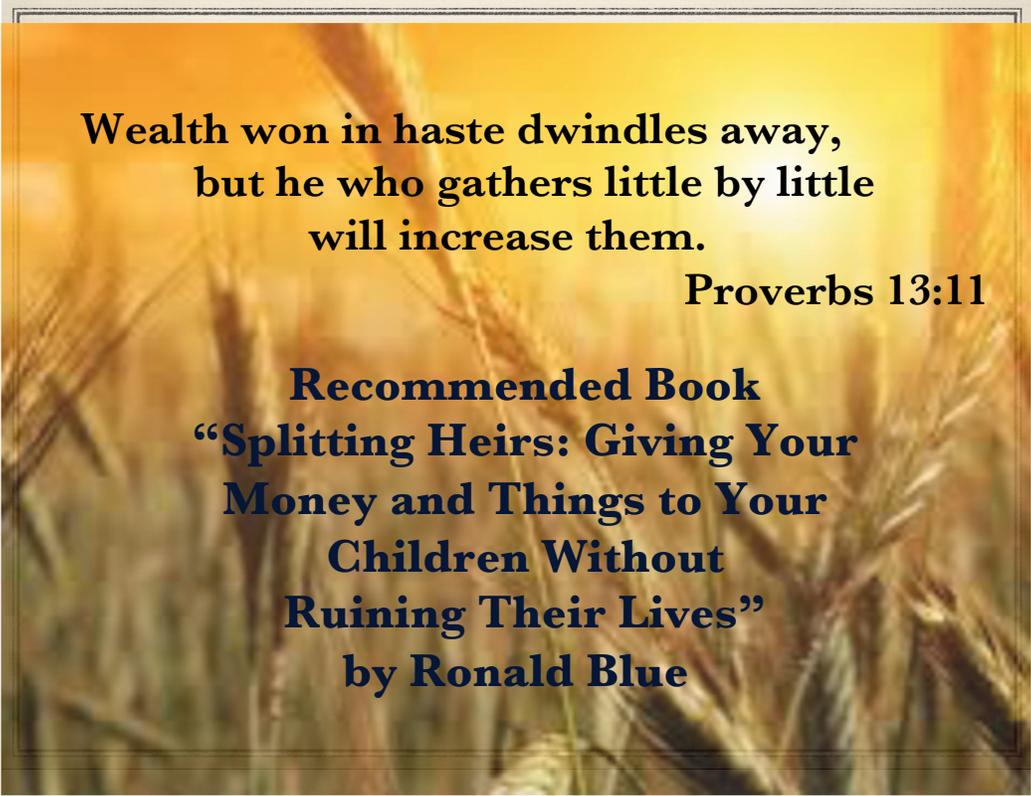

“Before an inheritance can be given, recipients should have training on how to handle it.”

Many families simply leave their inheritance first to the surviving spouse and when they pass away, it is divided by their kids in equal shares. Before you pass wealth, you should be in the business of imparting wisdom.

The writer of Proverbs 20:21 knew a thing or two about wealth and succession.

Wealth won in haste dwindles away,
but he who gathers little by little will increase them.

Proverbs 13:11

Recommended Book “Splitting Heirs: Giving Your Money and Things to Your Children Without Ruining Their Lives”
by Ronald Blue

This is a great book, if you haven't read it. Splitting Heirs by Ronald Blue.

It takes time spent with your family to share your values and motives.

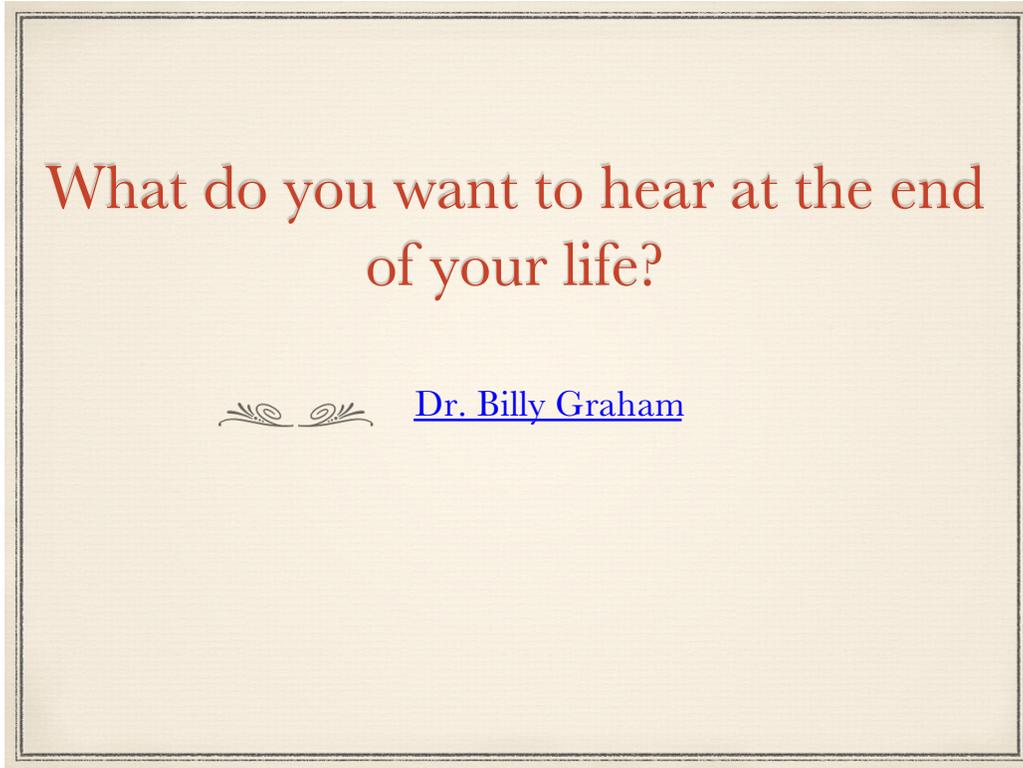

Decide now while you still have your wits about you.

Having the “Family Talk”

- Share what you plan to do in your estate and be available to answer questions.
- Let them know that you were the one who came up with your estate distribution plan.
- If you change your plan later or just prior to your passing, heirs will suspect you were persuaded by someone to favor them. There will be tension at your funeral, or they may never talk for the rest of their lives.

Do you want your family to be on good terms after you are gone? Prepare them ahead of time. The more wealth you have, the more crucial it is to have this conversation when everyone is still healthy and happy.

What will people say about you when your time comes?

1 Timothy 6

Verses: 17-19

Trust in God
Use money for good
Be rich in good deeds
Be generous, willing to share

A foundation for a real future

Bill & Vonette Bright

Founder of Campus Crusade for Christ (CRU)

Legacy
&
Eternity

Prayerfully consider including your local church in your estate plans. You can't take it with you, but you can send it on ahead!

Brad & Andrea Jack, Lyle Weber © 2022
<https://maximizingstewardship.net>

maximizing stewardship